

NOT SO AS THE BOSS COULD NOTICE IT

SALT LAKE HAS A DAY OF SORROW

Salt Lake's hopes of flying the championship pennant over Lucas field were dampened again yesterday when Ogden won the first game of the last series by the score of 5 to 4. There was no reason why Salt Lake should have got those four runs. They played in no style to deserve even that number.

Rustenhaven was in great part the winner of the game. He and old "Si" Perkins outgassed the slugging Skyscrapers until they were unable to slug. The Ogden battery held the erstwhile topnotchers to eight hits Morgan and McClain for Salt Lake had difficulty in stopping the hitting. Ogden secured 13 hits, many of which were doubles.

Ogden's batting was a feature. Woolums went to bat four times and sent out three two-baggers. Jones made three bingles in four trips to the plate. Cobb got two hits and one came at the critical moment, scoring two men. Blauser made his debut. Ogden fanned and was greeted with a small ovation. He sent out one clean hit to show what he was capable of doing. Also he stabbed a good one in right field. Taken all in all, Ogden presented a fine front for the home-town fans.

Ogden showed no signs of being merciful to the almost pennant winners. The fans urged the boys to wallop the Salt Lakers for defeats that were given in the past. Rustenhaven did more than his share by striking out 12 of the best batters on the list of the Skyscrapers. One in nine he struck out three in succession.

McCloskey gave signs of the nervous strain he is undergoing at the present time by directing "barred" words to the grandstand and bleachers. "Mac" usually has the stands working with him or at best only giving him a good natured jollying. Yesterday, however, references to Kie Hester and his Electric filled Hester's breast with fiery indignation. He, however, did not appear annoyed to see the game going against them.

Although Ogden played better ball from start to finish, the game went against the locals in the beginning. The scoring began in the third. Previous to that, Ogden had showed strength in pinches and prevented run-making. In that third inning McClain was an easy out. Morgan was walked and took second on a wild throw. Murphy went out to Blauser and then Morgan went to third on another passed ball. Spencer singled, scoring Morgan. Huelsman singled, putting Spencer on third. While Erickson was taking his time missing strikes, Spencer stole home. After he had done that, Erickson struck out.

Although Ogden had secured five hits, two of them doubles, there was no scoring for them until the fifth. Three hits, two of them doubles, in that inning only brought in one run. Wessler and Rustenhaven had run out. Woolums doubled and Cobb singled, scoring the first sacker. Jones sent out a hit for two bags and Cobb was tagged at home in an attempt to score from first base.

In the seventh, Perkins went out on a grounder. Rustenhaven singled when Huelsman lost the ball in the sun. Wessler also singled but Woolums went out at first. Cobb hit one squarely, scoring Rustenhaven and Wessler and took second on a passed ball. Jones doubled, scoring Cobb. Risberg singled, scoring Jones.

Three singles and a double in the eighth inning by Murphy, Huelsman, Erickson and Davis respectively gave Salt Lake two. In the eighth, Perkins caught Davis sleeping on second and retired the side.

Not even the pinch hitters and McCloskey's knowledge of ball could tie the score in the ninth.

SALT LAKE

	ABR	BH	PO	A	E
Murphy rf-If	5	0	2	1	0
Spencer cf	4	2	1	5	0
Huelsman lf-rf	4	1	2	0	0
Erickson lb	4	0	1	8	0
Davis 3b	4	0	2	0	1
Schmiff 2b	3	0	0	5	1
Pendleton ss	4	0	0	1	1
McClain c	3	0	0	9	1
Morgan p	2	1	0	0	1
Johnson	0	0	0	0	0
*Stripp	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	8	24	10

OGDEN

	ABR	BH	PO	A	E
Wessler 2b	5	1	1	4	2
Woolums lb	4	1	3	8	2
Cobb cf	4	1	2	0	0
Jones 3b	4	3	3	2	0
Risberg ss	4	0	2	1	3
Blauser rf	4	0	1	1	0
Moorehead lf	4	0	0	0	1
Perkins c	4	0	0	12	0
Rustenhaven p	4	1	1	2	0
Totals	37	5	12	27	13

*Batted for McClain in ninth.

*Batted for Morgan in ninth.

SCORE BY INNINGS

Salt Lake 002 000 020-4

Ogden 000 010 40-5

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Woolums 3, Blauser, Jones 2, Davis. Stolen bases—Spencer. Sacrifice hit—Schmiff. Runs batted in—By Spencer, Erickson, Davis, Cobb 3, Jones, Risberg. Double play—Perkins and Risberg. Struck out—By Morgan 7, Rustenhaven 12. Bases on balls—Off Rustenhaven 2. Wild pitches—Morgan, Rustenhaven. Passed balls—Perkins, McClain. Left on bases—Salt Lake 6, Ogden 8. Time of game—Two hours. Umpire—Frery.

HELENA WINS FROM MISSOULA

Helena, Mont., Sept. 9.—Helena won the first game of the final series of the season, beating Missoula, 5 to 3, in a featureless game. Williams showed several bursts of speed as his strikeout record shows.

MISSOULA

	ABR	BH	PO	A	E
Cordtz cf	5	0	0	4	0
Champion 3b	3	0	2	1	0
Perkins 2b	3	0	0	3	4
Carman 1b	4	0	0	10	1
Daschbach ss	3	1	1	1	2
Auer c	4	1	2	4	1
Welcher lf	4	0	0	0	1
Kelly rf	2	0	1	0	1
Finch rf	1	0	0	0	0
Maloney p	4	1	2	1	1
Totals	33	3	8	24	15

HELENA

	ABR	BH	PO	A	E
Spencer lf	4	2	3	0	0
Cronin 3b	4	0	1	0	2
Menges ss	4	1	1	0	5
Quigley 2b	4	0	3	2	4
Lussl 1b	4	1	1	15	0
Gibson rf	4	0	1	0	0
Murray cf	4	1	0	2	0
Crittenden c	3	0	0	8	0
Williams p	3	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	5	10	27	11

SCORE BY INNINGS

Missoula 000 200 100-3

Helena 201 000 11-5

SUMMARY.

Two-base hits—Daschbach, Spencer. Three-base hits—Auer, Menges. Home run—Lussl. Sacrifice hits—Cordtz, Cronin. Double plays—Perkins to Carman, Menges to Quigley to Lussl. Wild pitch—Maloney. Stolen bases—Cobb 2, Jones 2, Risberg 2.

Struck out—By Morgan 7, Rustenhaven 12.

Bases on balls—Off Rustenhaven 2.

Wild pitches—Morgan, Rustenhaven.

Passed balls—Perkins, McClain.

Left on bases—Salt Lake 6, Ogden 8.

Time of game—Two hours.

Umpire—Frery.

len base—Champion. Bases on balls—Off Williams 4. Struck out—By Maloney 2, Williams 7. Left on bases—Missoula 9, Helena 5. Time of game—1:25. Umpire—La Roque.

STANDING OF CLUBS

UNION ASSOCIATION

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Great Falls	73	42	.635
Salt Lake	72	45	.615
Butte	53	58	.477
Missoula	52	65	.444
Helena	49	65	.430
Ogden	47	71	.398

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	87	43	.669
Philadelphia	77	48	.616
Chicago	76	57	.571
Pittsburgh	71	61	.538
Boston	56	71	.441
Brooklyn	56	73	.434
Cincinnati	56	79	.412
St. Louis	46	92	.333

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Philadelphia	85	45	.654
Cleveland	80	53	.602
Washington	75	57	.568
Boston	66	63	.512
Chicago	69	66	.511
Detroit	56	75	.427
St. Louis	51	84	.378
New York	46	83	.357

BASEBALL

Senators Win Both Games.

Washington, Sept. 8.—With second place in the American league race at stake Washington and Cleveland began today one of the most important series of the season with a double header here, both ends of which went to Washington 8 to 1, and 8 to 2. The games were won mainly through the air-tight pitching of Boehling and Johnson. Boehling allowed but four hits, and Johnson had been hit safely only twice when he retired after the eighth. Ayres, a recent arrival from Richmond, Va., succeeded Johnson and was hit three times in one inning.

Manager Birmingham started two of his star pitchers, Gregg and Blanding but neither was effective. Gregg was wild and was forced to retire in the second inning of the first game before a man was out. Cullop succeeded him with the bases loaded and prevented Washington from scoring. He, in turn gave way after the seventh to James who later was called upon to relieve Blanding in the second game. The youngster pitched good ball.

Washington made 27 hits in the two games for a total of 38 bases. Moeller was the slugging star of the day, making a home run, a triple and two singles out of eight times at bat.

Dodgers Beat Pirates.

Pittsburg, Sept. 9.—Brooklyn defeated Rube Robinson, Pittsburg's big left hander for the first time in three seasons this afternoon, 2 to 0. A wild throw by Dolan gave Brooklyn both runs in the fifth inning with Yingling on first and one out. Morgan hunted towards third. Dolan's throw went into right field, allowing Yingling to score and Moran to reach third, from which point he scored on an out. Wagner disputed several misjudged Corriden's long drive in the seventh inning today and it went for a home run with two men scoring ahead of Corriden and Chicago won the last game of the season with St. Louis 4 to 0, making nine straight victories. The game was a pitchers' battle, in which Nelhaus, a recruit pitcher from the Battle Creek, Mich. team had a shade over Eddie Stack. The visitors had the chance to score when O'Leary doubled and attempted to score on Niehaus' single to left. Miller's perfect throw beat him to the plate by a close margin.

Cubs 4, Cardinals 0.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Outfielder Oakes misjudged Corriden's long drive in the seventh inning today and it went for a home run with two men scoring ahead of Corriden and Chicago won the last game of the season with St. Louis 4 to 0, making nine straight victories. The game was a pitchers' battle, in which Nelhaus, a recruit pitcher from the Battle Creek, Mich. team had a shade over Eddie Stack. The visitors had the chance to score when O'Leary doubled and attempted to score on Niehaus' single to left. Miller's perfect throw beat him to the plate by a close margin.

Bodie Wins the Game.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Bodie's stick work secured a victory for Chicago over Philadelphia here today by 2 to 0. Bodie scored in the second inning on a home run drive into the left field bleachers and his single in the fourth session tallied J. Collins, who had made three bases on a miff by Oldring. Philadelphia had men on the bases in every inning but only one of them reached third. This was in the second, when two singles and a pass filled the bases, with one out, but Schang hit into a double play.

SECURING FUNDS FOR EMBASSY QUARTERS

It would be hard to estimate the amount of money expended by those who remain abroad a year or more, but the amount of money expended by American transients in Europe is placed at $200,000,000. Surely such vast sums diverted from American channels ought to be mulcted to the extent that Ambassador Gerard proposes. He suggests $10 a year as a sum sufficient to secure funds for embassy quarters. This would necessitate compulsory registration of Americans abroad, which would be a benefit in other directions as well. The Gerard plan is one that must appeal to Americans as being a wise proposal for the solution of a difficult problem. Such a solution would tend to strengthen the American sentiments of aliens for a time being from home shores. For the very fact that they paid a special income tax for the provision of embassy quarters would have a beneficial effect upon their patriotism.

At the present time there is a strong see-America-first sentiment, and the propaganda points to the creation of a tide of tourist travel to this country that shall in some degree even up the travel of Americans to foreign lands. The United States has scenic interest that is superior to that which attracts Americans to other lands, while its historic shrines and its public buildings are matters of the widest interest to intelligent tourists from other lands. At the same time these things need to be made to appeal strongly to the average American, who is ignorant of the attractions possessed by his own country. Therefore, it would seem to be entirely just to lay emphasis upon the see-America-first idea by reminding Americans abroad that they owe a special debt to the country in the way of income tax for the privilege of residing for any considerable length of time abroad. Justice Gerard would have the tax placed at $10 for a year's residence. There is no reason why every tourist in general should not pay some amount. The ingenuity of the proposal will commend it, and, as there is no serious objection to be urged—the tax would certainly not be an onerous one—it is to be hoped that it will be taken up actively by Congress.—Baltimore American.

A woman can never raise a street car window, but she never gets discouraged. She tries it every summer.

TAFT LAUDS NAVAL HERO

Former President Delivers Dedictory Address at the Unveiling of Shaft to Commemorate Commodore Perry's Victory at the Battle of Lake Erie

Cedar Point, Ohio, Sept. 10.—A towering shaft of white marble, erected in commemoration of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's victory in the battle of Lake Erie and the one hundred years of peace between the United States and Great Britain, was formally dedicated today by former President William Howard Taft. Inaugurating the dedication ceremonies, cannon boomed at the hour of the firing of the opening gun of the famous battle, fought one hundred years ago today, within view of the Put-In-Bay shores.

"A century ago today this bay was made famous by a battle," said Mr. Taft, "and today we meet to dedicate a great and beautiful monument to those who took part. In the retrospection of one hundred years we can weigh its significance. Nothing has developed in these years to diminish the courage, patriotism of the commander and his men as they appeared to their contemporaries. But the consequences of the battle and the war of which it was one of the few bright spots in a field of gloom, were strikingly beneficial and promise to grow even more so in the second century or which we are now entering."

Mr. Taft then sketched the biography of Commodore Perry from his birth in Rhode Island on the 23rd of August, 1785, to the supreme moment of his career—the naval engagement off West Sister Island one hundred years ago—and to his sudden death in Venezuela on his thirty-fourth birthday. His youth, the difficulties encountered in building and manning his fleet, and his courage in the crisis which turned the tide of victory were made the subjects of Mr. Taft's eulogy.

"We are here today to mark the rearing of his beacon light of perpetual peace. Little could Perry have thought in the struggle that he had in building his puny fleet, in the stress he was under in the height of battle, in the victory that he announced in his famous words to General Harrison, that his work would be remembered for one hundred years as the harbinger of perpetual peace, and while we venerate the memory of his career—the patriotism, the self-sacrifice that brought him and his men their great triumph, today we cherish not so much its evidence of American manhood and love of country, as the teaching that its memory brings to the world of the practical possibility of unending love and peace between international neighbors."

THE HOPE BLUE DIAMOND.

And then there's the notorious Hope diamond, that blue-coated jewel, that vagabond gem, alleged in every case by the many different people who denied superstition by securing it to have worked misfortune and disaster. (In a recent interview Miss May Yohn, the divorced wife of Lord Francis Hope, is reported to have said, "When the blue diamond left me my luck changed.") In fact, the record of the blue diamond is so uncanny so sinister, that when it passed some years ago into the hands—or rather on to the fingers—of the wife of an American millionaire, an enterprising New York newspaper promptly instructed one of its representatives to take up his abode immediately opposite the millionaire's residence—and see and record what would happen. As a matter of fact, nothing happened, except that the millionaire's wife, driven crazy by the journalist's attentions—his "shadowing" and indiscretions—returned the jewel to her husband and persuaded him to sell it. Where the blue diamond is now I do not know. At all events, she is bought, has found yet another purchaser and finger, and so is pursuing her vagabond career.—London Daily News.

WESTERN SARCASM.

Meat is apparently at sky prices in the West also. We read that a man went into a butcher's shop in Kansas and ordered $1's worth of meat sent to his house. "If there's nobody at home," he added, "just poke it through the keyhole."

OLD STUFF.

"It seems to me that Scribblers' writing has deteriorated since he became famous."

"Oh, it isn't that. You see, since he became famous he's been able to sell all the rubbish he ever wrote."

strongest reasons for believing that the Giants will win the world's series in October.

any of the Giant twirlers when he is signalling them what sort of a ball he believes will not be to the batter's liking. According to Mathewson, Meyers is the best backstop in the National league, and the great pitcher goes further in his praise of the Indian by declaring that Meyers' superiority over the catchers of the Philadelphia Athletics is one of his graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photo-

graphs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service. The picture shows the big backstop, just as he appears to Christy Mathewson or

John Tordes Meyers, the full blooded Indian catcher of the New York Giants posed for these two photographs especially for William Ironson, the baseball photographer of the International News Service.